

The tour highlights 10 exceptional spots.

Start at any garden,
but finish at Sylvester Cemetery, 2073
Braeburn Circle, Atlanta, 30316. Guided tours of the cemetery are at noon, 1 p.m. and 2 p.m.

No dogs are allowed in the gardens. Please be considerate if you're parking. Thank you.

895 Stallings Ave SE:
Food and fun!

These gardeners love sharing food from their vegetable beds, and sharing fun with the neighborhood kids who love the gnome garden!

1635 Wainwright Dr SE:
Back to the roots

In barely two years, this gardener has made a huge start in converting a suburban yard into a food-producing ecosystem.

1134 Oakfield Drive SE: Party in the back This garden has trees and vegetable plants in its sunny front, and a backyard with multiple entertainment areas amid beautiful plants.

716 Gresham Ave SE: Kid-friendly fun Gardens and children don't always mix, but these gardeners have created a space that's warm and cheery, and most importantly, fun!

584 Stokeswood Ave SE:

Weather or not!

This garden was started from scratch during the pandemic, then replanted after unkind weather, but its beauty has caught up quickly.

795 Flat Shoals Ave SE: The Emu Ranch Despite the occasional peacock escapee, few people get to experience the beauty behind these garden walls. Enjoy!

Notes: Do not block this home's driveway. Please park across the street on Pasley Ave. Because of the birds, this garden can't accommodate dogs, even service animals.

1443 Newton Ave SE: A Flood of ideas
When this gardener watched a heavy rain causing drainage issues across his front yard, he grabbed a shovel and started following the flood.

1430 May Ave SE: Cottage in the City These neighbors are turning the front yard into a cottage-style garden and the backyard into a shady haven with a "secret garden."

440 Blake Ave SE: A Neighborly Space
This is a true community garden, with not only plants, but also a bocce court and an enclosed children's play area.